n annual 4-day retreat for Nalanda Dharma School facilitators was held from 2 to 5 An annual 4-day retreat for Natariua Dialina oction accurate by 16 facilitators and November in Pulau Ketam, Selangor, with active participation by 16 facilitators and trainees. During the retreat, the School's performance in 2013 were objectively reviewed, while the 2014 School structure and programmes were discussed.

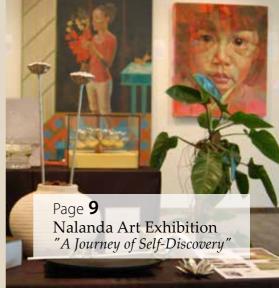

In this fruitful gathering, facilitators learned the Dhamma and improved our chanting skills during morning and evening sessions. We also reinforced our faith in the Buddha-Dhamma with Sis. Sunanda's sharing on the qualities of the Three Jewels. This enriching learning experience inspired us to progress spiritually.

While there was definitely hard work, the retreat also had many fun moments! Interesting games were conducted, and we had a memorable time cooking together. We also learnt about Pulau Ketam while interacting with the friendly local community and experiencing the simplicity of life in a fishing village.

It was a truly harmonious stay throughout the retreat among the participants. Facilitators expressed gratitude and support for each other and our bonding strengthened immeasurably. The retreat ended with much accomplishment and plenty of learning. We are charged with motivation and looking forward to serve for the betterment of the community come 2014!

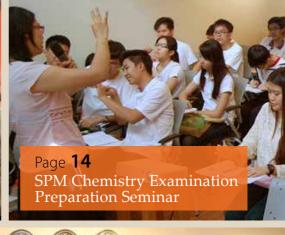

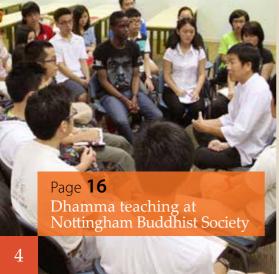

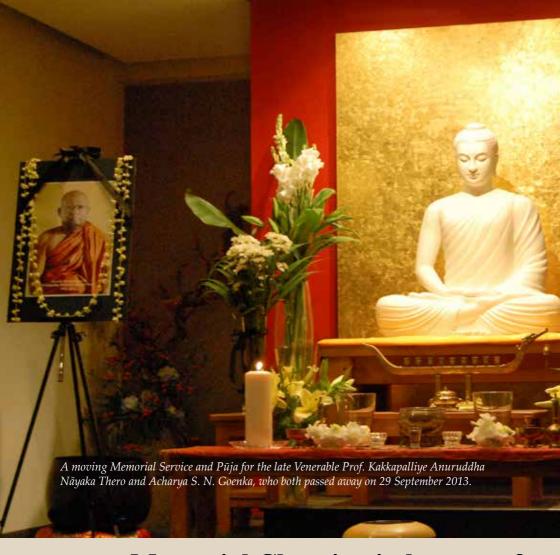

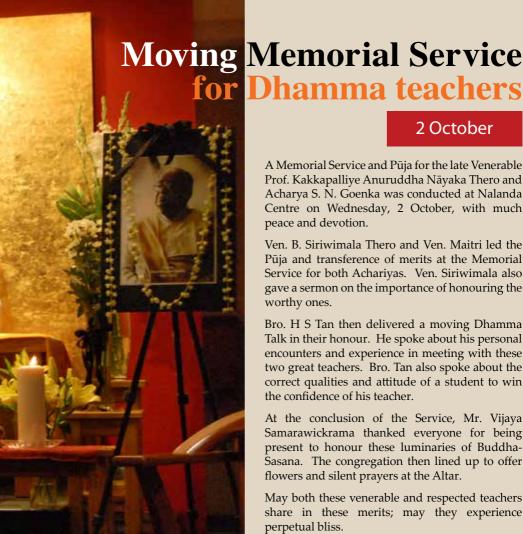

Memorial Chanting in honour of Somdet Phra Nanasamvara

His Holiness the Supreme Patriarch of Thailand, Somdet Phra Ñanasamvara, passed away peacefully in Bangkok on 24 October 2013. His Holiness had just celebrated his 100th birthday on 3 October this year, but he had been in poor health for more than a decade. After a recent medical procedure, his condition deteriorated rapidly, and his long, fruitful lifespan finally came to an end.

As a mark of deep respect, Nalandians observed three days of chanting and dedication of merits from 25 to 27 October at Nalanda Centre Sri Serdang. Nalanda Buddhist Society pays tribute to this great monk, scholar, and teacher. May the late Somdet Phra Ñanasamvara experience the highest bliss of Peace.

2 October

A Memorial Service and Pūja for the late Venerable Prof. Kakkapalliye Anuruddha Nāyaka Thero and Acharya S. N. Goenka was conducted at Nalanda Centre on Wednesday, 2 October, with much peace and devotion.

Ven. B. Siriwimala Thero and Ven. Maitri led the Pūja and transference of merits at the Memorial Service for both Achariyas. Ven. Siriwimala also gave a sermon on the importance of honouring the worthy ones.

Bro. H S Tan then delivered a moving Dhamma Talk in their honour. He spoke about his personal encounters and experience in meeting with these two great teachers. Bro. Tan also spoke about the correct qualities and attitude of a student to win the confidence of his teacher.

At the conclusion of the Service, Mr. Vijaya Samarawickrama thanked everyone for being present to honour these luminaries of Buddha-Sasana. The congregation then lined up to offer flowers and silent prayers at the Altar.

May both these venerable and respected teachers share in these merits; may they experience perpetual bliss.

The Chinese Calligraphy Exhibition was officially launched at Nalanda Centre Sri Serdang on 28 September, graced by the presence of honoured guests, Yang Berbahagia Dato' Seri Kee Yong Wee, Adviser of the Calligraphy Society of Malaysia, Datin Seri Kee-Mah Ming Yuet, Mr. Wong Ho, President of the Calligraphy Society of Malaysia, and other distinguished calligrapher-members of the Society.

Following the opening speeches by Dato' Seri Kee and Nalanda Founder, Bro. H S Tan, guests and visitors were officially invited to view the calligraphies. Many were amazed by the sheer poetry behind the artistry, and took the opportunity to admire the exhibits up close, and reflect on the deeper meanings and philosophy of the Chinese characters. Mr. Wong Ho then gave a special talk on "How to appreciate Chinese Calligraphy". Live demonstrations by invited calligraphers evoked much delight from the audience.

The Calligraphy Exhibition enjoyed a 3-day successful run from 27 to 29 September, from 10am to 8pm daily. Nalanda would like to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to Dato' Seri Kee, Datin Seri Kee, Mr. Wong Ho, and all distinguished calligraphers for their dedication and support in making this exhibition a meaningful and fruitful one!

Proceeds from the sales of calligraphies will be channeled to produce a special documentary on Buddhism – "A Journey of Self Discovery" – chronicling a truth-seeker's journey through India and his realisation of the Buddha's true teachings. The documentary will be produced by Yg. Berbahagia Datin Seri Kee-Mah Ming Yuet, and directed by Mr. Yang Wei Han. Filming of the documentary in India and Nepal will begin in early 2014.

Joyfully Concluded!

4 – 6 October

The inaugural Nalanda Art Exhibition was successfully held at Nalanda Centre Sri Serdang over 3 days, from 4 to 6 October. Since its opening, a continuous stream of visitors had been coming to the exhibition, many of whom were first-time visitors to Nalanda.

The Art Exhibition was officially launched by Datin Seri Kee-Mah Ming Yuet on Saturday, 5 October. Bro. Tan at the same occasion, spoke about the importance of art-education in deepening one's cultural awareness and roots. Art can also be a conduit to spiritual insights; it can transcend the boundaries of ethnicity and religion to effect positive changes in the wider world.

This exhibition was a joint effort by Nalanda and well-known art curators Syed Nabil Syed Nahar and Sharifah Nor Akmar of NN Gallery. It aimed to raise funds for a special documentary on Buddhism – "A Journey of Self Discovery".

A total of 38 artworks by 25 Malaysian artists were on display. Visitors were truly delighted by the artists' creative interpretations of the theme 'Journey of Self Discovery'. We thank all of them for contributing their time and effort to this event!

Our deepest gratitude as well to Datin Seri Kee-Mah Ming Yuet for being our Guest of Honour and the inspiration behind the entire event; to Syed Nabil and Sharifah Nor Akmar of NN Gallery for their unstinting support; and to all benefactors, visitors, volunteers and Nalandians for putting up such a fine, memorable, and successful exhibition! Thank you all.

On Saturday, 12 October, Nalanda's Charity Musical, "Butterfly Lovers" the Musical, was performed to a packed hall at the Kuala Lumpur Performing Arts Centre by the highly-acclaimed Dama Orchestra. It was a mesmerising night as the audience was swept away by the creative designs, talented performances, and a captivating storyline delivered with a fresh perspective and humorous wit.

This charity performance was hosted by Nalanda to raise funds for our Education, Building & Development Fund. The Board of Management of Nalanda Buddhist Society would like to express our utmost appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Ho Chin Hou of "Rins & Roy", who were the main sponsors of this event. We would also like to sincerely thank all the sponsors, donors and volunteers for your generous contributions and support.

The proceeds from this event are significant to Nalanda's Building Extension Plan, which is scheduled to commence soon. As an education and resource centre to the Buddhist community in Malaysia, the expansion will enable us to provide quality and holistic education to even more people! We hope to continue receiving your invaluable support towards this noble endeavour.

Members' Day

Nalanda Buddhist Society members congregated at our 'spiritual home' – Nalanda Centre – on Saturday, 26 October for another reunion-like Members' Day gathering. This round, new members from Nalanda Kuala Lumpur and Johor Bahru branches also joined the assembly for the first time. They received a warm and encouraging welcome from other Nalandians.

Members' Day are held periodically to update Nalandians about the latest developments in the Society, as well as to share inspiring lessons and success stories with one another. There were briefings by the President, Secretary, representatives from various divisions, and reports by the two branch chairmen. All members were inspired by the many successful and inspiring stories shared by the officers. But the most enthusiastic response was reserved for the three Nalanda Youth representatives, who warmed everyone's hearts with their down-to-earth humble demeanor and stories of personal growth.

In his frank and inspiring sharing, Bro. Tan reminded Nalandians to keep to our high standards of integrity and service quality. At the same time, we must continue to develop our faith in the Three Jewels, as well as in Nalanda's educational mission. As Nalandians, we strive to fulfill our three roles – as Buddhist practitioners, as Society members, and (for most people) as Nalanda officers

The 3-hour gathering felt more like a family reunion, especially when it came time for lunch! Thank you Nalandians for attending this gathering and for your dedication to serve the community. Your contributions have touched the hearts of many, and helped improve the quality of people's lives. Let us continue our service, learning and growth with strong faith and diligence!

Inspiring & Impactful SPM Examination Seminar

On Saturday 12 October, Nalanda Free School organised an SPM Chemistry Examination Preparation Seminar to help Fifth-formers prepare for our upcoming exams. 78 students from 6 schools in Seri Kembangan and Kajang attended the full-day workshop at Nalanda Centre. We were honoured to have Sis. Khor Swee Moi, a dedicated volunteer teacher at Nalanda Free School, and "Guru Cemerlang (Kimia) 2010" to conduct the course.

The seminar was interestingly designed with group activities and discussions to equip students with a thorough picture of Chemistry. Sis. Khor's unique approach to the subject astounded the participants who were all ears throughout the workshop. The use of videos on laboratory experiments was impactful and we got to view Chemistry in a whole new perspective!

Sis. Khor taught us not just answering techniques but also study tips and life lessons. We the beneficiaries of this seminar would like to thank our 'Guru Cemerlang'

An inspiring and impactful sharing by Ms. Khor.

Sis. Khor Swee Moi, organiser Sis. Nandini, and Nalanda Free School. At the end of the seven-hour seminar, we left Nalanda Centre highly motivated and all set to face our big battle ahead – SPM!

On 26 October, students of Nalanda Free School, parents and volunteer teachers filled the Srivijaya Hall to attend the School Honours & Appreciation Day. As the 2013 school year has come to an end, 4 categories of awards were presented to students from each class after evaluation by teachers. The awards were the "Full Attendance Award", "Best Student Award", "Most Improved Student Award" and the "Most Enthusiastic Learner Award".

During this joyous ceremony, students, parents and teachers participated along happily while enjoying the songs, video presentation and wonderful sharing by some teachers. Indeed, the voluntary spirit, guidance and care shown by the teachers were truly remarkable and most inspiring. Thank you, dearest teachers! May our students continue to work hard in pursuing academic excellence, while not forgetting the importance of right values and cultural refinement that would enhance their lives!

Nottingham Buddhist Society

Among the many places which Bro. Tan taught recently was at the Nottingham University Buddhist Society. The teaching at Nottingham was themed "The Man in the Mirror". It touched on how we can grow into a better person with timely, proper, and wise reflections. The 'reflector' we use is called the 'Mirror of Dhamma'.

It has been a busy period for Bro. Tan as he traversed a few countries and states on Dhamma missions in the past two months. The indefatigable Nalanda Founder covered 3 states on 30 October alone, having been in Kedah in the morning, in Penang for an afternoon meeting, and then to Nottingham University in Selangor at night. Happy indeed are those who do good; and happy also are those who rejoice in the goodness of others. Sadhu anumodana!

of SMJK Kwang Hua, Klang

On Friday 1 November, 40 teachers and students from SMJK Kwang Hua in Klang visited Nalanda Centre on an excursion to gain better understanding of Buddhist organisations in Malaysia. Sis. Nandini, Bro. Yeo Disheng and other Nalanda Officers warmly welcomed them. Sis. Nandini then gave a sharing on the importance of understanding the Buddha's teachings and learning about Buddhist culture.

The visitors were brought around for a tour of Nalanda Centre. Many were awed by the beautiful environment and serene ambience of the Centre, and expressed their keen interest to visit again. After afternoon tea, they left Nalanda joyfully with new lessons and experience gained. Thank you for your visit and we hope to see you again soon!

On Friday 1 November, Nalanda Founder Bro. H S Tan, Director of Pustaka Nalanda Bro. Ananda Fong, and Board Member Bro. Charlie Teng, together with Datin Seri Mah Ming Yuet and Ajahn Malee Praison, attended a Buddhist-Muslim Dialogue entitled "Peace & Sustainability". The Inter-faith Dialogue was jointly organized by Institut Kefahaman Islam Malaysia (IKIM – the Malaysian Institute of Islamic Understanding), International Network of Engaged Buddhists (INEB), and the International Movement for a Just World (JUST). The dialogue was hosted by IKIM at their headquarters in Kuala Lumpur.

Participants from more than a dozen countries took part in the event, including delegates from India, Nepal, Bangladesh, Myanmar, Thailand, China, Japan, Singapore, the USA, and Malaysia. The panelists who spoke at the forum were renowned intellectual-activists Dr. Chandra Muzaffar from Malaysia and Ajahn Sulak Sivaraksa from Thailand. Also on the panel were Reverend Alan Senauke from the USA and Prof. Azizan Baharuddin, Deputy Director-General of IKIM.

Many delegates took a keen interest in Nalanda Institute Malaysia and express their wish to visit Nalanda Centre after the conference. A few foreign institutions were also interested to collaborate and forge exchange programmes with Nalanda Institute. Bro. Tan extended an invitation to the delegates to visit Nalanda to have greater understanding and further dialogues. Bro. Tan also congratulated Bro. Vidyananda Soon and other INEB coordinators for their hard work in organizing this event. Sadhu anumodana and thank you.

Exemplary Nalandians

Sis. Felicia Khoo
Former Treasurer of Nalanda Buddhist Society
Interviewed by
Bro. Yap Keng Siong & Bro. Tan Jee Jian

The journey of Sis. Felicia into Buddhism started 10 years ago, when Nalanda's former President, Bro. Ee, introduced her to the Sunday pūja and Dhamma talks by Bro. Tan.

As a shy person, Sis. Felicia felt comfortable at that time as there were only very few Nalanda members and the atmosphere was family-like. After a few years of joining the weekly activities, she was approached to serve the Nalanda Committee in 2009, and she happily took up the challenge. Since then, Sis. Felicia has served as the Society's Honorary Treasurer, and as a Treasury Team member.

Apart from her easy-going quality, Sis. Felicia is undoubtedly humble and is always ready to render her services to others. Some of the important values gained during her service in Nalanda include being more confident, more open to other people, and always giving her best effort despite her busy schedule.

Even though Sis. Felicia has been serving Nalanda for the past 10 years, the word 'retirement' is not in her dictionary! Sis. Felicia has shown unwavering perseverance and determination to serve the Buddha-Sasana through her continuous dedication and diligence at Nalanda.

Sis. Felicia would like to take this opportunity to express her gratitude to all her Dhamma teachers, fellow Nalandians and most of all, to the Treasury Team for being her good friends.

It is not surprising for us that Sis. Felicia is named an Exemplary Nalandian as she is indeed a role model for fellow Nalandians in terms of her humility, commitment to service, and also her cheerful character. We wish her all the best and may she be well and happy always!

Nalandians will no doubt be missing Sis. Faith a lot, as she will be migrating to Australia in early 2014. Over there, she wants to continue her practice and deepen her understanding of the Dhamma. Apart from studying the suttas, she hopes to meet like-minded friends to form a group to support each other by meeting regularly for Dhamma discussions. We wish Sis. Faith all the very best in her spiritual endeavours. May she continue to progress in the Dhamma and inspire many more through selfless service!

Sis. Faith Teh
Nalanda Communications Manager
Interviewed by Sis. Soh Beng Choo

"Life is beautiful at Nalanda", said Sis. Faith Teh when describing her volunteering experience at Nalanda. I believe all Nalandians who embrace the spirit of 'selfless service' and strive for spiritual growth would understand the meaning of this phrase and attest to it based on their own experiences.

Prior to meeting her, I was shown the photo of Sis. Faith featured in the Nalanda Bulletin, May 2013 Issue; and 'cheerfulness' was my first impression of her. Indeed, she is a jovial and pleasant person whose easygoing personality made me feel at ease during the interview, which was also our first time meeting each other. I could sense her positive energy throughout our conversation.

Sis. Faith, an active volunteer at Nalanda since February 2012, felt that there were many other volunteers who deserve to be an Exemplary Nalandian. While I do not know the other deserving Nalandians mentioned by her, I have no doubt as to why she was chosen. The more I talked to her, the more I was convinced that whoever was involved in nominating and giving her the honour have indeed made the right decision, having considered many of her noteworthy attributes.

Sis. Faith has demonstrated her courageous character by taking up the challenging role of 'Communications Manager'. At that time, being relatively new to Nalanda, she was not familiar with the culture and appropriate writing style. She was also unsure how she could observe timeliness in delivering her tasks – which include updating and managing Nalanda's website and Facebook daily, as well as sending weekly e-mails to close to 3,000 contacts to disseminate updates about the programmes at Nalanda. Aside from her key responsibilities in the communications aspect, Sis. Faith was also entrusted to be the emcee for many of Nalanda's major events. Wow! It is really not an easy job that any ordinary person would want to commit to and do it voluntarily.

With a strong sense of responsibility and her openness in receiving feedback, ideas and guidance from others, Sis. Faith has not only proven her capability in carrying out her duties, but has also set herself as a good example to other Nalandians within the short span of her voluntary service here. Of course, Sis. Faith didn't accept the tasks assigned to her with an expectation that she would turn out to be an Exemplary Nalandian. It is her sincerity to serve others, which is in line with the value of 'Service' that she felt most strongly about out of Nalanda's 'Eight Core Values', that gives her the energy and drive to discharge her duties with vigour and joy. When asked to give a few words of advice to fellow Nalandians, she said, "In volunteering our service, it is important to do so with a joyful heart while continuing our practice as a Buddhist. Always be sincere and don't forget the big picture." Sound advice indeed.

Sis. Faith expressed her gratitude to her Dhamma brothers and sisters, and especially her mentor, Bro. Tan, who have been good friends and teachers throughout her time at Nalanda. In the past two years, she felt herself progresswing to being more patient, humble and peaceful. Although the growth is subtle and intangible, she believes she is a different, better person today!

Nalanda Centre in Sri Serdang is an acknowledged centre of Buddhist education in Malaysia. Since its opening in December 2009, many impactful programmes have been held there including WACANA Conferences, forums, seminars, meditation retreats, sutta study courses, holiday camps, and leadership training sessions.

Besides, there are regular activities such as weekly services, Uposatha Pūja, meditation, chanting, Dhamma talks, Dharma School lessons, free tuition classes, youth gatherings, hosting of National Service trainees, and numerous meetings.

On average, 750 to 1,100 people visit and make use of Nalanda Centre weekly. The Centre has reached its full-carrying capacity since May 2011, and has to be expanded to cater for the community's needs for more quality Buddhist educational programmes.

The Management of Nalanda has drawn up a facility development plan to integrate the next-door building and expand the Centre to twice its size. The expansion project is expected to cost RM1.8 million. We appeal to you to support us in this noble project, so as to make quality education available and accessible to even more people!

Spiritual Well-being & Inner Peace

While different people may hold different views and beliefs, we all search for meaning and purpose in our existence that will lead to inner peace. The path to spiritual well-being may involve meditation, prayer, and other spiritual practices which connect us to our inner being.

At its core, we must be compassionate, altruistic, forgiving and equanimous. To engage in the process of spiritual wellness, we must be willing and able to transcend ourselves to question the meaning and purpose of our lives. When we arrive at such a state of spiritual well-being, what follows naturally is inner peace.

What are our objectives in life?

As Buddhists, we strive to attain balance and happiness in our lives, as well as to help others achieve greater joy and success in their lives, by realising the Six Well-beings, namely:

- 1. Physical well-being and good health.
- 2. Mental well-being and joyful living.
- 3. Family well-being and domestic bliss.
- 4. Economic well-being and career success.
- 5. Interpersonal well-being and social harmony.
- 6. Spiritual well-being and inner peace.
